

Prospector Indicators Feature Factsheet

Overview

Indicators in mpi Prospector* provide the ability to call out specific members of the peer set based on user-defined conditions. Users may now assign custom symbols and colors to indicators and define shared attributes that make them common across all charts and tables. Combined, these create a powerful means of visually connecting many different manager quality criteria.

In Practice

1. Users may now define the color and symbol to associate with each indicator. Symbols can be resized relative to other symbols and made semi-transparent to aid with overlap. Previously, Stylus Pro automatically selected the colors of indicators.
2. Customized indicator symbols can visually communicate additional information about the peer set. In the first example the black up arrows indicate positive excess return, the red down arrows negative. These indicator symbols will be consistent across all charts, unlike in previous versions of mpi Prospector.
3. The indicators defined for charts can now also be seen in tables. A new column is inserted that lists the symbols for each indicator whose filter criteria match. Unlike in charts, you can use tables to identify when managers meet multiple indicator criteria.

Benefits

- Ability to create visuals with meaningful symbols that communicate information
- Consistency of indicators across different charts and tables, tying these views together
- Ability to identify when a manager matches criteria for multiple indicators through tables
